Judge Motz, c/o Robert Wolinsky,

Thank you for your courage in the Microsoft opinion released today. Although I'm a Microsoft shareholder, I don't believe Microsoft should be allowed to undermine Apple by turning an antitrust penalty into a marketing triumph and give away Microsoft products to schools. A more appropriate penalty might be an award of $$ for those same schools to buy Apple products, or a mandatory rebate of some amount to all Microsoft customers. Having seen the press reports of today's decision, I have faith that you'll do justice.
